

2021 National Environmental Justice Conference & Training Program

Enhancing Communities Through Capacity Building & Technical Assistance

The National Environmental Justice Conference and Training Program and the National Conference on Health Disparities will jointly reconvene in 2021

The 2021 National Environmental Justice Conference and Training Program (previously scheduled for March 17-19, 2021) and the National Conference on Health Disparities will be held jointly in 2021 on a virtual basis; dates to be announced. The relationship between health disparities and environmental justice is increasingly more important as we continue to deal with the devastating effects the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as Federal, state and local government actions related thereto, has had on our communities; those environmental justice communities, low-income communities, and American Indian Tribes and Alaska Natives communities that are the most vulnerable and have long been decimated by health disparities.

Once rescheduled, the NEJC will also present a series of virtual workshops and training programs in the weeks leading up to the joint conference (dates and times to be announced). If you have any questions in the meantime, please contact us at email@thenejc.org or 202-827-2224.
